Building Offers New

The students of Perry High gratefully acknowledge the educational benefits provided to them by this new school building. From its classrooms students reach new horizons of learning. To the Mothers for Better Schools and all other persons instrumental in the realization of our dream, we express our thanks.

Horizons In Education

Mrs. Richard Kelley, Mrs. Reece Burland and Mrs. Harvey Siglin inspect the new school's library after the formal dedication ceremonies held September 17, 1960.

The political speeches and panel discussions were punctuated by demonstrations led by student representatives of the two parties.

Students Exemplify Democracy

A panel of "news reporters" composed of Bill Wildberger, Mary Doidge, Keith McDevitt and Joyce Balsbaugh fired questions at students representing the two parties.

Republican Richard Nixon won a narrow margin victory at a mock election held November 1, 1960. A Democratic trend was evidenced at the state and local levels.

Joel Welch was one of four seniors who gave key campaign speeches.

Janet Dorman, Jerrold Wilson and Delores Dana help with the tedious job of vote counting.

For the first time in years a sunny day prevailed for the annual Homecoming Parade. Donna Dickey, Homecoming queen attendant, and her escort Bob Jacobsen smile at the crowd during the event.

Classes . . .

Are Only the Half of it!

Friendly smiles were in order during the Student Council sponsored Christmas Formal. Karen Rankin dances with her date, Larry Kilmer.

Sponsored by the Dance Band, "Club 18" combined dancing and socializing for an evening of fun. Enjoying refreshments are Suzanne Wildberger, Judy Kilmer, Mary Snow, Donna Millhollin and Susan Rausch.

Characteristic of a plight faced by many drivers, Roger Plum, Jere Pennington and Jim Bucher "push" as Barry Crist drives. The muddy roads were responsible for many messy experiences.

Trimming the Christmas tree proved to be a cold job for Student Council members Allen Cochrane, at the top of the ladder, Donna Milhollin, Jim Bucher and Edna Roush.

Since their high school was closed in 1960, many Dawson students now attend classes in Perry.
